

CALL FOR EXPRESSION OF INTEREST

Selection of Freelance Translators, Interpreters and Other Language Service Providers

The West African Health Organisation (WAHO) through its Language Unit is planning to upgrade its database for freelance translators, interpreters and other language service providers. As a consequence, interested and duly qualified translation and interpretation agencies and individual freelancers are invited to express their interests by submitting their applications including a cover letter, a copy of official registration dossier as well as firm's bank details.

Applications must also include a copy of the Curriculum Vitae (CV) of the principal or most qualified Professional according to the attached template as well as copies of his/her qualifications, if he or she meets the following requirements in one of the three languages of the Economic Community of West African States (English, French, and Portuguese) :

- Recognized University degree in interpretation/translation according to Job description;
- A recognized university degree in any subject, plus advanced/Postgraduate university degree in interpretation or translation according to job description or;
- Recognized university degree in any subject and proven experience in the field of simultaneous interpretation for Interpreters and in translation for Translators.

Interpreters, Translators as well as Revisers, working as freelancers must provide proof of relevant professional experience in their respective fields.

WAHO invites eligible Consultancy firms/Freelancers to express their interest for the above described services. Interested parties must demonstrate that they have the required qualifications and relevant experience to perform the Services.

Consultancy firms / Freelancers will be selected based on the Consultants' Qualification method (CQS) in accordance with the ECOWAS Tender Code (effective from 1 January 2014).

Interested Consultancy firms/freelancers may obtain further information by contacting WAHO as follows:
